

People with an interest in 3D printing are unknowingly committing crimes by producing guns

CRIME

Criminals exploit hobbyists who share tips on 3D-printed guns

Charlotte Wace

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

 freeman--1337

Today

Would you sell a Glock lower I don't want to buy a 3d printer lol

lol, that's a felony

no, can't do it. But setting up an ender 3 is pretty easy and a printer is like $200 FWIW

When the Feds track you down to your Appalachian cave home but you've been training a actual fucking wendigo in guerrilla warfare after feeding him chicken tenders and bang energy drinks for the past 6 months

r/legaladviceofftopic
u/earants · 167d

Join

Is it illegal to tell a cop to kill themselves?

just wondering

1

4

Share

Dr. Freeman1337, PHD @Freeman13372 · Oct 27, 2023

Replying to @K12ssdb

This is my unregistered 50 caliber ar15 machine gun. No BG check for it and I can still hunt deer with it. Does this scare you more then that little bitty 308???

25

6

341

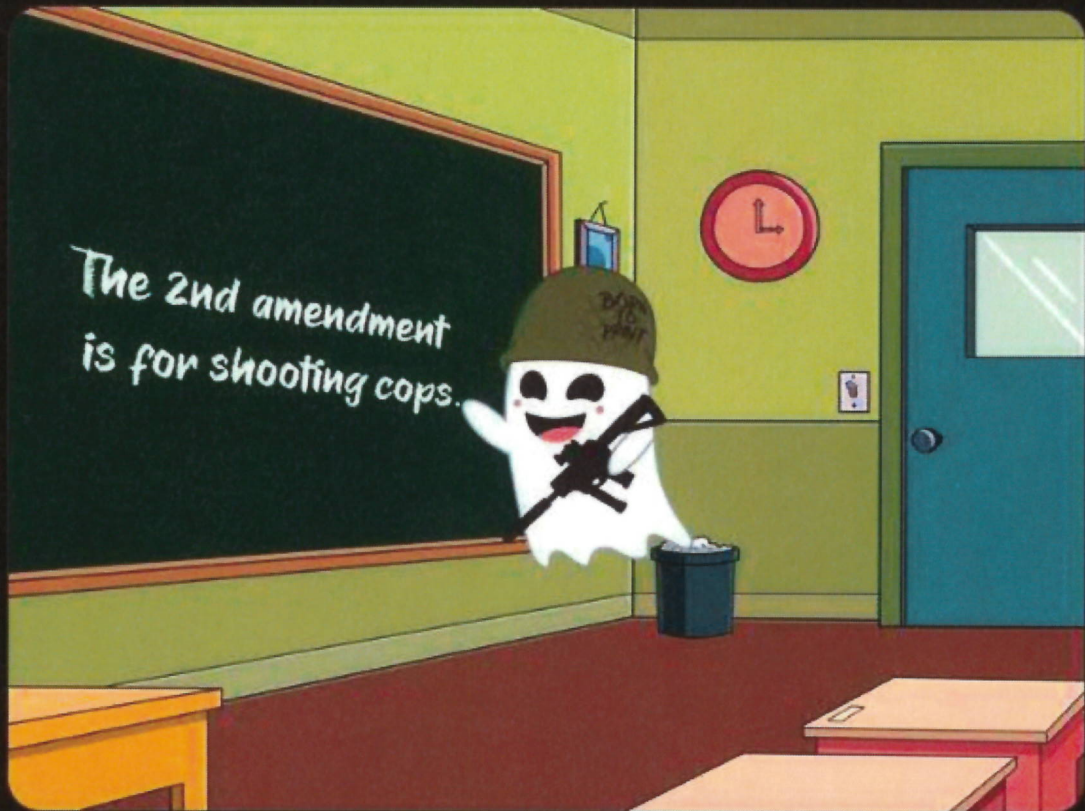

18K

Dr. Freeman1337, PHD reposted

RK Spookware @RKSpookware · Mar 20

 The Force @k_k78695821 · Mar 19

Replying to @9NEWS

Civilians have NO Constitutional right to military grade weapons period. The 2nd Amendment is not a license to challenge law enforcement or overthrow our government. The 2nd Amendment is for your own personal protection PERIOD.

Dr. Freeman1337, PHD @Freeman13372 · Jul 13

AR15s are for shooting cops and anyone else who attempts to step on out liberty

